A Tribute to a Son, A Gift to the Community

If you’ve been to the library lately, you may have seen a new addition - a custom-made hardwood table with an inlaid chess board. This beautiful table was donated by longtime Friends of the Library, Barbara and Roy Butta in memory of their son Alexander, who passed away in 2012. Alex’s godmother and family friend Sharon Bigelow also contributed funds to the purchase of the table.

Alex was an avid chess player, and Barbara believed that a chess table at the library would be a fitting tribute to her son. She was aware of local interest in chess and the high demand for children’s chess programs at the library. Barbara didn’t want the chess table to be only for decoration; she wanted it to be used. Her instincts were right; the chess table is in constant use. On any given day, you will see children, teenagers, and parents playing chess with their children. Chess is popular with all generations of Chatham residents and now there is a public place where they can play.

Stop by the library to cool down from the summer heat and play a game of chess!

Thank you Friends of the Library raised over $28,000 from this year's Book Sale. Gifts from the Friends continue to fund numerous programs at the library. In addition, Friends funded the acquisition of new tables for our Benigno Meeting Room. Thank you Friends for all your hard work and dedication!
